City Web Site: jeffersontownky.gov / Beth Wilder, Director

Volume XVIII, Number 1, January 2017

EXHIBITS: Our current exhibit, Jeffersontown 1900-1919, features photos, clothing and other Jeffersontown-related artifacts from that time period. It will remain up through September 1, 2017.

DONATIONS: Debra Anderson, manager of the Jeffersontown Library, donated documents related to the 1996 Jeffersontown Library & Museum building and the Senior Citizen's Center. Carole Davis donated many wonderful old toys, linens, awards, etc., from the Miller family of Jeffersontown.

The two paintings below, done by Nancy Lippold, are possibly of Jeffersontown-area sites. If anyone recognizes these locations, the museum would love to hear from you at (502)261-8290.

In Loving Memory....

On October 7, 2016, the Museum lost two of its beloved docents – Earl Albin, age 95, and Marjorie Hunsinger Weeks Babson, age 93. Not only did they provide important artifacts and information to us over the years, they also gave selflessly of their time. We love them dearly, and they will be greatly missed.
